Course Description and Methodology

This course has been designed to develop basic language skills in Arabic: listening, speaking, reading and writing, as well as a basic understanding and assimilation of the Arab culture in general.

Since Arabic has such diverse dialects, we will be using a variant of Arabic known as Modern Standard Arabic (MSA), which strongly resembles Fushaa (meaning “The most beautiful, the most eloquent, and the purest.”)

- All students are required to learn the written and spoken Modern Standard Arabic (MSA) by the ACTFL (the American Council on the Teaching of Foreign Languages), which represents an indispensable linguistic foundation for successful communication with speakers of any colloquial variant (Colloquial Arabic or Dialects).
- MSA is used all over the world in classroom instruction, electronic and print media, scientific research and many other formal situations. Moreover, a good foundation in MSA allows the learner not only to have access to a vast heritage of ancient and modern literature, scholarly work and various types of media, but also facilitates the learning process itself and can be applied to any Dialect the student may wish to study in the future.
- All of the ‘Aammiyyah (Dialect), known collectively as colloquial Arabic (CA), contain base words, segments, expressions, idioms, structures, and cultural references from MSA.

Learning Outcomes

As this course in the Arabic Language and Culture is an elementary one, it will include an introduction to the Arabic Alphabet, Numerals, and usage of basic vocabulary, phrases and sentences.

- We will focus on oral comprehension, pronunciation, verb-building and usage, sentence-formation, and vocabulary building.
- A good part of this elementary course will be devoted to the recognition/writing of letters and to the formation process of simple words/phrases/sentences in Arabic script.
- This represents the indispensable foundation for successful oral and written communication.
- Emphasis will be then placed on the development of language proficiency at the Elementary Level by the ACTFL.
- On the other hand, since no language course is ever accurately approached without a profound study of the people who speak it, we will get to know famous people in light of their Arab heritage and make the exotic familiar.

Course Structure

This class will cover Lessons One through Four of the Al-Kitaab book:

Please note that the structure of this course requires intensive individual preparation via completing all the activities in the text and on the DVDs.

It is also suggested that students partake in Arab culture as well by eating at ethnic restaurants, watching movies, documentaries with English subtitles, to observe the dress, dwellings, cuisine and customs or even listening to music by such singers as Fayrouz, Umm Kalthoum, Asmahan or Farid Al-Atrash (to take in the music of the language).

Therefore, the four courses of NUVHS Arabic represent a section a program carefully designed in order to take learners from the Beginning to the Advanced level by the ACTFL. The major outlines of the whole program are as follows:

- The program provides a wide variety of exercises, drills (in order to reinforce grammar points), vocabulary, and communicative strategies.
- Audio-video DVDs accompanying the books taught allow the learner to have his own tutor all the time.
- Learning how to develop cultural insights is also introduced based upon the Arabic folklore, customs, proverbs, cuisine, etc.

Student's Role and Responsibilities in this Course

Expectations:

Students are expected to conduct themselves in a responsible manner that reflects sound ethics, honor, and good citizenship. It is the student's responsibility to maintain academic honesty and integrity and to manifest their commitment to the goals of NUVHS through their conduct and behavior. Students are expected to abide by all NUVHS policies and regulations. Any form of academic dishonesty, or inappropriate conduct by students or applicants may result in penalties ranging from warning to dismissal, as deemed appropriate by NUVHS.

Communication:

Throughout this course students will need to be in close contact with their instructor and fellow students. Students are expected to communicate via Course Message and electronic discussion boards. Therefore, students should plan on checking their Course Messages at least three times a week and participate in the discussion boards during the weeks they are live.

Instructors strongly encourage and welcome open communication. Clear, consistent, and proactive communication will ensure a successful experience in this course. It is the student's responsibility to notify the instructor immediately if and when a personal situation occurs that affects his/her performance in this class. Being proactive with communication will result in a quick solution to any problems that may occur.

Technical Support is offered through Student Concierge Services (SCS). Should a student need any technical assistance, he/she are to email the Help Desk as soon as possible at scs@nu.edu or call 1-866-628-8988. For help with login/password issues, or other technical issues specific to the Blackboard website, you can contact the team at National University Blackboard Learn. They can also be reached by phone at (888) 892-9095. If a problem persists for more than 48 hours, the student must also notify his/her teachers and NUVHS.
